CROWFOOT

Gay decorations and a brilliant lighted Christmas tree gave a festive Yuletide atmosphere to the annual Christmas program held in the Crofton school on the evening of Dec. 31st. A very successful and beautiful enacted program of plays, recitations and choruses provided pleasant entertainment for parents, friends and neighbors from the surrounding districts. The coming of the last, jolly Santa Claus was heralded by the ringing of bells and gifts and bags of candy were distributed to every child present. Delicious refreshments were then served by the entertainment committee, leaving the evening the chairman, Mr. David Englund, expressed in a few well chosen words the thanks and appreciation of all present to Mrs. Laver and the pupils, to the young people who took part in a certain very humorous play, and also to the entertainment committee who made this very successful evening possible.

Miss Annie Penner, a popular bride of December, was the guest of honor at a delightful miscellaneous shower on Friday afternoon, which claimed Mrs. D. H. Garriott and Mr. Clarence Garriott as joint hostesses at the attractive home of the former. The gifts which had been placed in a miniature truck decorated with white and yellow streamers was pulled into the room by little Bobbie Garriott, who also was dressed in yellow and white and represented a truck driver. Miss Penner passed the gifts around for all to view and admire. Choice refreshments were later served from a table where long yellow and white streamers from the corners of the table to the chandeliers made a very effective decoration. It was concluded by a gathering of old friends and the bright conversation and warm good relationship which prevailed made the afternoon an outstanding success.

Rev. W. M. Gilbert delivered a very able address Sunday evening, titled "The valuable advice for youth."

Mrs. Marcus and daughters entertained last Monday afternoon.

Miss Hazel Short invited a few girl friends Monday afternoon to her home. Three tables of bridge were arranged and a jolly time spent by all. Winners of high and low scores were Miss Alice Garrett and Miss Violet Hyde.

Bright Spots of 1935

What were the developments of 1935 which suggest that times are growing? Employment figures rose; external trade gained; consuetudinary the most problem grew less acute; production of automobiles, boots and shoes, electric power, several minerals to higher levels. The primary business in many areas obtained somewhat better prices for their commodities. The newspaper industry at least became a worse Federal revenue climbed slightly. The cost of money fell, government being able to borrow at record low levels. Trade barriers were lowered slightly. Some measure of confidence returned into the business world. The stock market, which usually acts as a barometer of business prospects, pointed to better weather ahead.

On the other side of the ledger the picture is still dark. In spite of gains in employment, there are still between 400,000 and 500,000 Canadians. It would appear, unable to find employment. There are 20,000 families on relief, and a large army of single men and women also, the grand total being over the million mark. There is not a single provincial budget which balances, after taking into account special expenditure, and taxes are about the peak, so that relief on that side of the balance sheet is impossible. The debts of public bodies continue to grow alarmingly. The federal debt has grown about one million dollars since the beginning of the depression. The railway problem grows no simpler as time goes on.

The railway problem grows no simpler as time goes on.

On the other side of the ledger the picture is still dark. In spite of gains in employment, there are still between 400,000 and 500,000 Canadians. It would appear, unable to find employment. There are 20,000 families on relief, and a large army of single men and women also, the grand total being over the million mark. There is not a single provincial budget which balances, after taking into account special expenditure, and taxes are about the peak, so that relief on that side of the balance sheet is impossible. The debts of public bodies continue to grow alarmingly. The federal debt has grown about one million dollars since the beginning of the depression. The railway problem grows no simpler as time goes on.

The movement of traffic by rail is discouragingly low. Volume of movement on the railways in 1935 was only about 70 per cent of the volume in 1926. While trucks and buses explain part of this reduction, it is still startling commentary on the sluggishness of business. Allowing for the long term trend, internal and external movement of goods ought by now to be 20 per cent above the 1926 level, not 20 per cent below it. It will take a continuation of the steep increase in employment of the past summer for another two years before the present unemployed are back in industry. It will take several years of similar gains in federal revenue before a balanced budget can be achieved.

Coaling on Trade. The Liberal administration is banking heavily on the restoration of international trade to bring about better times. They argue that the depression resulted from the barriers created by legislators in the form of tariffs, quotas, exchange restrictions and so forth. These damned up the stream of commerce and created stagnation everywhere, thus unloading and thwarting the advances of science and engineering and destroying the gains which are obtained when each country does the thing it is best fitted to do and exchanges its own specialty lines of other countries. They argue that high tariffs result in costly and uneconomical production, which lowers the demand and the consumption of goods. If the world moves with Canada toward lower tariff barriers, they argue 1936 will see further improvement everywhere.

Sea Gulls

A moaning shriek—a distant cry—
A whitened plume goes flashing by:
A dip, a dive in billows green.
The bird is heard—then later seen.
The sea gull rides on every wave—
It knows of each lone sailor's grave;
On many a beach it seeks repose,
It hides its eggs where no one knows.
It soars above the waters deep—
Perhaps it seeks eternal sleep.
—O. W. Holmes.

Books

The best of a book is not the thought which it contains, but the thought which it suggests, just as the charm of music dwells not in the tones, but in the echoes of our hearts.
—O. W. Holmes.

Pearl on gull attends, and deeds of darkness; the virtuous breast ne'er knows it.
To err is human, to persist in error is devilish.—St. Augustine.

under the supervision of Mr Norman Ellis, and Miss Alice May at the piano, was a nice success. The School was filled to capacity with a very appreciative audience. The pupils certainly excelled themselves in their recitations and dialogues, each and every one did their very best. One just ate and marvels how those small children can memorize their pieces and stand before an audience without any hesitation whatever. This was very noticeable in the two dialogues, one the Wedding of the Painted Doll and the Spelling Lesson, both were recited so well done by such young children. Miss Marjorie Dawson, Mr Wilfrid Sharman, also Mr Earl Chandler, ex-pupils of the school contributed their little bit, and were well received. Mrs Spence Hughes, Mrs Wm Knapp and Mrs E. C. Chandler sang three beautiful songs, which were a delight to their audience. Santa made an appearance and distributed sacks of nuts and candy and oranges to the children. They are still asking, "why has Santa Claus grown so big?" Mr D. S. Brook made a very able chairman. Lunch was served, after which dancing was enjoyed till the small hours. Credit is due Mr Ellis, also to Miss May in presenting such a very enjoyable evening.

COOPS — JAMES

The home of Mr and Mrs Norman Scheer, Strathmore, was the scene of a very beautiful wedding on Monday evening, Dec. 22nd, when Winnifred, youngest daughter of Mr and Mrs E. D. James of Ardennode became the bride of Mr. John Everett Coops, son of Mr and Mrs S. Coops of Calgary.

The bride who was given in marriage by her brother Mr. Edward James was charming in an ensemble of white silk crepe, with fur trimmed cuffs and a large white stole, placed across one shoulder and matching accessories. She carried a beautiful bouquet of Madame Butterfly roses.

The wedding took place before a fireplace banked with foliage, roses and carnations. Rev. Mr. Chapman of Rockyford officiating.

Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at a long table where pale pink carnations and tall white tapers made a most effective decoration. Mrs Norman Scheer and Mrs. Edward James assisted in serving and Miss Dorothy James poured tea.

For travelling the bride chose a lovely dress of blue and silver with matching turban.

Mrs Ed James, mother of the bride wore a navy crepe de chene dress while Mrs S. Coops, mother of the groom chose a dress of brown georgette trimmed with lace.

Only immediate relatives and close friends were present.

The happy young couple, after a short stay in Calgary will reside in Red Deer.

NEW YEARS

What do just the two words—New Years, conjure before your mind? To the very young in our midst they suggest something that is beyond comprehension—a whole year ahead—that is something that reaches out to infinity. Something akin to time—the space that cannot be completely grasped and so happily they become absorbed in the thing of the moment and gain release from such an overwhelming vista.

To those of us who have passed this stage and find the years flitting by with ever increasing momentum what is going to be our reaction? Are we going to say "Well, here is another New Year—I wonder what it will bring?" and then sit placidly back awaiting events. How would it be this year of New Year—that can I put into it? What can I do this year to improve my physical condition? My mental qualities? My spiritual being?

Suppose this year we make only one resolution and that is that we will make our lives wholly constructive and drop all the negative attitudes we have been prone to indulge in the past. This is the day and age of slogans. Let to each adopt one definite concrete idea that will be our watchword and guiding star through out the year. Supposing this year we take as our objective, Cheerfulness, Kindness, Happiness, Beauty, that only literature or any hobby that appeals to our taste and capacities. Supposing this year we definitely resolve that once a day in some way we will bring this idea either into our own lives or into the lives of those we contact. After all life is pretty much what we make it.

Today in every direction we are greeted with the words—Happy and Prosperous New Year. How many of us feel that if the latter were assured that the former would take care of itself. And undoubtedly after these trying depression years to a great extent it would. But in the meantime could we not all greatly enrich our lives by realizing that within our own inner being, Soul, Mind, Spirit, call it what you will the contact with man's fellow man lies the greatest source of happiness.

The past generations were concerned with building this empire of ours and the development of science, to invention. To us and the future generations remains the building of the empire of the mind and the development of greater social consciousness. Who shall say that, that rest less and triumphant ambition and inexhaustible energy which has led mankind to its present state of achievement shall not march on to a larger and fuller life?

NAMAKA

Don Watts arrived Monday and will spend Xmas holidays with his parents Mr. and Mrs. Otto Wheeler entertained at Bridge on Wednesday of last week, with five tables in play. The highest scores going to Mr. C. Macle and Mr. T. E. Wright. Consolation winners being Mrs. Gardiner and N. Scheer.

The Annual Xmas Concert and Tree was held on Friday, Dec. 29 with the usual crowd of enthusiastic listeners. The pupils performed their tasks in remarkable style. Following is a list of the programme: 1—O Canada. 2—Recitation by Marjorie Mackie. 3—Play, Land of Plenty. 4—Chorus, Joy for Rooms. 5—Recitation, Margaret Hallberg. 6—Drill. 7—School days. 8—Drill. 9—Chorus, Senior Rooms. 10—Drill. 11—Recitation, Don Watts. This number was one of the best on the programme. 12—Its Xmas again. The evening performance concluded by the arrival of Santa Claus, who distributed the candy etc. to all the children who have been eagerly looking forward to this occasion. The Chairman, Mr. Parker, tendered a vote of thanks to the teachers, Mrs. Thomson and Mr. Little.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack McLean of New Dayton are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Johnson for the Xmas holidays. Mr. and Mrs. Wiggins of Calgary are the proud parents of a boy born, Saturday, Dec. 21st.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Hall were visiting during the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Millen left Tuesday for Surrey where they will spend Xmas with relatives.

HOCKEY

The Red Wings travelled to the mountains over the week end playing in Camrose on Friday and Banff on Saturday.

The score of Friday night's game, Camrose 5, Strathmore 9 doesn't look so good but the Wings were handicapped to quite an extent, due to the fact that George Giroux was banished for the remainder of the game early in the first period, after having a tussle with the referee.

The Wings performed in great style on Saturday night however, gaining a 4-3 victory over the fast stepping Banff club, after the Mountaineers got a 2-0 lead in the first period. George Giroux and Bill Giroux did the scoring for the Wings, getting 2 each.

ART GIROUX BREAKS WRIST DURING GAME

Windsor, Ontario—One of the biggest crowds of the International Hockey League season here watched Windsor Bulldogs battle their way to a 2-1 decision over the group leading Detroit Olympics last night in a game that produced fist fights, wrestling matches and misconduct penalties. Olympics suffered more than defeat. Art Giroux, brilliant right winger who was leading the club in goals scored with 11 in 16 games broke his wrist late in the first period. The accident happened when he collided with the boards.

Strathmore friends regret this accident as it will throw Art out for the balance of the season.

HERVEY NOTES

BAINTREE

The chief item of interest in this district was the school concert, with the school packed to the doors. The pupils large and small carried the entertainment with any hesitation. The school song "Baintrees" originally arranged received a big hand. An "Art of Putting" as explained by Charlie County tollhander Stanger was a big hit. The Negroes from Ash Alley caused many laughs, especially when Billy Lyons as a Negro lady appeared with a rolling pin. The grade ten class presented a play "Rats" and received many compliments. Santa Claus later appeared to distribute the presents from the overstocked tree. The teacher and pupils received a big hand after a few words of thanks from Mr. Loughboman.

Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Wymore of Calgary 42 visitors at the home of their daughter, Mrs. Wm. Lyons.

Mr. David Loughboman spent New Years in Calgary.

Miss N. Watson spent the holiday with her parents at Baintree.

Mr. Howard Logan and Miss E. Lamborne spent Christmas Day at the home of Mr. and Mrs. County.

The Baintree C.P.W.A. remind everyone that their big dance and tombola will be held at Nightingale on Jan 10. The ladies have arranged a big night so let's all go.

School will commence at Baintree on January 6th. The pupils will come back to a thoroughly cleaned school.
